

Support and Training

We naturally provide support services for our security solutions. However, for security measures to really "work", acute problem awareness among those responsible is extremely important, as is the active participation of all employees in the company. This is the only way to facilitate an efficient interplay between technical and organizational measures.

For this reason, we place great importance on employee training and awareness, and offer corresponding presentations and workshops, e.g. on information protection and data security, security management and controlling.

Our services include:

- Organizational development
- Design and execution of awareness campaigns
- Creation of training documents and informative material
- Security coaching
- Emergency drills
