

Implementation & Training module

We do not aim to make ourselves indispensable. We are just as concerned to provide complete documentation so that everyone can have access to the knowledge.

In addition to customer-specific introduction programs, we offer training on specific topics.

Our training measures are geared towards our customers' requirements, regardless of whether they want in-house training for the whole department or intensive one-to-one coaching. We pay particular attention to participants' current levels of knowledge.